III. Risk management capabilities

(I) Classification of insurance companies

As per rules on classification of insurance companies in Solvency Regulatory Standards No.12: Solvency-aligned Risk Management Requirements and Assessment, the Company, established on 9 November 2001, is a Category I insurance company. In 2024, its annual written premiums amounted to 209.85bn yuan; total assets stood at 262.74bn yuan; there are 38 provincial-level branch offices.

(II) Measures taken to improve risk management and status during the reporting period

First, we made great efforts in disaster prevention and mitigation during the flood season. To achieve our strategic plan for sustainable high-quality development, we enhanced our risk management capabilities through coordinated efforts in risk assessment, underwriting and claims settlement, and further improved our integrated services combining risk prevention, risk reduction, damage control, post-disaster relief and claims settlement to minimise the impact of typhoons, heavy rainfalls and floods. We made disaster prevention and mitigation plans for the flood season in 2025, and held the 2025 disaster response drill and a mobilisation meeting, so as to support flood control, drought relief, and emergency rescue efforts.

Second, we enhanced our risk reduction capabilities. We hosted the Insights and Leadership: Property Insurance Risk Reduction Symposium, which facilitated multi-dimensional dialogues between the government, academia and insurance industry, established a communication platform for risk reduction management. During the Western China International Fair, the Company organised the Climate Insurance Practice and Innovation Forum, unveiling Tai Bao Yun Shu, its integrated meteorological disaster risk solution. This industry-first solution is an end-to-end management system that features “comprehensive coverage, disaster prevention, risk mitigation, disaster relief, and post-disaster compensation”, leveraging technology to strengthen climate risk resilience. Additionally, during the 5th Risk and Compliance Month campaign, we organised a contest for best cases of risk reduction, featuring speeches, Q&A sessions and debates, as well as a branch-level emergency drill competition to validate the operability and effectiveness of multiple contingency plans in complex scenarios.

Third, we performed all-around risk screening for potential flaws and vulnerabilities. We implemented comprehensive risk early-warning work plans released by the Shanghai SASAC and CPIC Group; strengthened risk monitoring and front-line-driven early-warning management in light of the Company’s internal management needs, risk appetite framework and limits, focusing on key risk areas such as credit risk, reputational risk, and emergency management. We conducted monthly risk monitoring, ad-hoc reporting of major incidents, and semi-annual self-inspections of material matters in compliance with the PBoC requirements to manage potential risks.

(III) Results of the most recent solvency risk management valuation

In 2021, the regulator conducted SARMRA assessment of the Company, which scored 83.94 points. Of this, infrastructure and environment of risk management was 82.19 points, targets and instruments of risk management was 82.35 points, insurance risk management was 86.4 points, market risk management was 81.68 points, credit risk management was 86 points, operational risk management was 84.44 points, strategic risk management was 86.12 points, reputation risk management was 84.53 points, liquidity risk management was 83.54 points.

(IV) Status of SARMRA self-assessment

Not applicable in the quarter.

IV. Information on IRR (differentiated supervision)

(I) Results of IRR in the previous 2 quarters

The Company was rated AA at the IRR for both Q4 of 2024 and Q1 of 2025.

As per regulatory requirements, it briefed the board on regulatory feed-backs over IRR results, with follow-up analysis of the status of rectification.

(II) Status of various risks of the Company

1. Operational risk

In the quarter, the Company strengthened compliance management as per relevant regulatory requirements, and made solid progress in management of operational risk and money-laundering risk, with related risks staying under control. The following was done in operational risk management:

First, we conducted a comprehensive review of the Company's rules and policies in 2025. Reviewed and cross-referenced the Regulatory Compliance Checklist, List of Deficiencies in Soundness of Rules as Identified by Internal /External Audits, and List of Audit Findings on Gaps in Rules Adherence, at both HQ and branch level to assess all in-force corporate policies along four critical dimensions: completeness, timeliness, enforceability, and alignment.

Second, implemented the Compliance Management Regulations for Financial Institutions. In the second quarter, the Company took various measures to communicate and explain the regulations to its employees, including senior executives, branch offices, compliance personnel and pushed for improvement its compliance management organisational structure.

Third, adopted a differentiated approach towards risk & compliance management of branch offices. Developed a quantitative indicator system for differentiated control and oversight strategies, and built a risk compliance management system featuring differentiated evaluation, targeted measures and continuous improvement.

Fourth, stepped up supervision and rectification efforts through collaboration across the 3 lines of defense. We reviewed and analysed audit findings, implemented system-driven remedial actions including follow-ups, dual-track verification and the mechanism for their removal from the system upon completion of rectification.

Fifth, launched the 5th Risk & Compliance Month campaign under the theme of "Striving for Highest Standards in Risk Control". The event featured various activities, including Smart Risk & Compliance Tools Competition, Contest for Seed Institutions, Campaign on Critical Issues, Compliance Commitment Signing, Risk Control Masterclasses, and Regional Compliance Training. The programme aims to cultivate a compliance-driven culture at all levels and reinforce employees' commitment to compliance.

Sixth, conducted a self-assessment on anti-money laundering (AML) as required by the People's Bank of China; completed an awareness and education campaign for the newly-revised Anti-Money Laundering Law; issued the 2025 Key AML Work Programme; and continued to optimise the new AML system.

Seventh, as for technology risk management, the Company complied with regulatory requirements and implemented continuous monitoring of key risk indicators, focusing on enhancing technology risk control, refining institutional frameworks, and strengthening cybersecurity and data security capabilities. In Q2, our quantitative and qualitative risk analysis indicated a low technology risk, with all risk factors effectively managed.

2. Strategic risk

There was no occurrence of risk events which may impact the execution of the strategic planning of the Company in this quarter.

In spite of a complex, challenging international environment, China, under the strong leadership of the CPC Central Committee, adhered to the general principle of “pursuing progress while ensuring stability” and delivered steady economic performance, stable growth in production and demand, and further development of new growth drivers. This has created a favourable environment for high-quality development of the insurance industry.

The Company fully implemented the decisions of the Central Financial Work Conference and the Central Economic Work Conference, and aligned itself with China’s socio-economic development in response to the requirements of the Opinions of the State Council on Strengthening Supervision, Preventing Risks, and Promoting High-Quality Development of the Insurance Industry and the Action Plan for Strengthening Supervision, Preventing Risks, and Promoting Reform to Drive High-Quality Development of the Property Insurance Sector. Our development plans were based on a prudent risk appetite. We implemented multi-dimensional risk management across talent development, business strategy, investment strategy, and overseas expansion. We conducted regular quantitative tracking of strategic risks to ensure alignment between corporate strategy, market conditions and our own abilities.

Next, the Company will continue to monitor macroeconomic policies and industry regulatory developments, prudently optimising its development strategies in response to changing dynamics of the market and its own business operation. We strive to achieve our business targets while contributing to China’s high-quality economic and social development.

3. Reputational risk

During the quarter, there were no severe reputational risk incidents, with the risk overall under control. As per Provisional Regulations on Reputational Risk Management by Banking and Insurance Institutions, Regulations on Reputational Risk Management of China Pacific Insurance (Group) Co. Ltd and Rules on Reputational Risk Management of China Pacific Property Insurance Co. Ltd., as well as other applicable regulatory rules and Group policies, the Company revised and released rules on reputational risk management, conducted a special risk screening of reputational risk for Q2, and carried out reputational risk analysis for Q3. Additionally, it organised a reputational risk training session for the Shanghai Tele-marketing Centre, further cascading risk management responsibilities to front-line business units. Going forward, when conducting business and PR activities, it will further enhance risk screening and prevention, step up fast response and coordination in risk-handling, with review and optimisation afterwards, accumulate the “asset” of reputation and strengthen early-stage intervention and closed-loop management of reputational risk, in a bid to forestall the risk more pro-actively.

4. Liquidity risk

To mitigate the liquidity risk, the Company coordinates cash flows from operating, investment and financing activities, pays special attention to large cash outflows arising from major claims, reinsurance bills, taxes, expenses and fixed assets, makes necessary arrangements in a timely manner to ensure sufficient liquidity to meet needs of various payment obligations. In Q2, the Company made funds available to meet needs of large pay-outs like quarterly prepayment of contribution into the Mandatory Insurance Security Fund, quarterly prepayment and 2024 annual settlement of income tax, reinsurance outgo and purchase & construction of fixed assets. It also made funds available for large claims payment of non-auto business, while handling needs for liquidity or applications for payment of branch offices in a timely manner. In Q3, apart from aforementioned payments, the Company will make funds available for payment of shareholder dividends, and will continue to monitor changes to its liquidity status, balance needs for liquidity and enhance its risk management capabilities.

V. Management analysis and discussions

(I) Review of key operating results

1. Analysis of changes to IRR ratings

The overall risk status of the Company remains stable, with solvency margin ratios stable and solid. Its business operation and net cash flows showed signs of improvement amid stability. The Company maintained a normal status in strategic risk, reputational risk and operational risk, without any occurrence of major risk events.

2. Analysis of solvency margin ratio movement

As at the end of Q2 2025, the comprehensive and core solvency margin ratios of the Company stood at 240.6% and 195.8% respectively, up by 0.3pt and 1.3pt respectively from the previous quarter. Of this, actual capital rose by 1.54bn yuan from the end of the previous quarter, mainly due to impact of net profit, other comprehensive income and profit distribution.

Minimum capital for insurance risk decreased by 80mn yuan from the end of the preceding quarter, mainly due to: lower capital requirement for premium risk as a result of changes to the combined ratio of auto insurance in the previous 6 months, and changes to balance of loans under financing guarantee insurance after reinsurance; higher capital requirement for reserve risk as a result of increase in balance of reserves for auto and short-term health insurance business.

Minimum capital for market risk rose by 870mn yuan from the end of the preceding quarter, largely due to increased risk exposure to overseas equity and bond securities, which in turn led to higher minimum capital requirement for risk of overseas equity prices and interest rate risk.

Minimum capital for credit risk rose by 340mn yuan from the end of the preceding quarter, largely due to increased risk exposure to premium receivables and outward reinsurance business, which raised the minimum capital requirement for counter-party default risk.

The Company sets its solvency risk upper limits and risk indicators based on its risk profile and appetite, and tracks them on a regular basis. In the meantime, it will continue to ensure stable and solid solvency positions via enhanced business quality control, improved risk identification and management, and optimised asset and business mix, etc.

3. Analysis of changes to liquidity risk indicators

(1) Liquidity coverage ratios (LCR)

As per C-ROSS II standards on liquidity, the liquidity coverage ratios of the Company, i.e., LCR1 and LCR2 in the next 3 months and 12 months under the base and stress scenarios respectively were both above 100%, and LCR3 above 50%, all meeting regulatory requirements. The Company adopts a prudent approach towards cash flow projections from operating activities, with the retrospective adverse deviation ratio of net cash flows from operating activities in the past 2 quarters consistently equal to or above the regulatory minimum level of -30%. On a YTD basis, net cash inflows of the Company amounted to 5.29bn yuan. Of this, net cash inflow from operating activities was 11.81bn yuan; net cash outflow from investment activities 5.02bn yuan; net cash outflow from financing activities 1.49bn yuan.

To mitigate liquidity risk, the Company attaches importance to daily cash flow management, coordinates cash flows from operating, investment and financing activities to ensure sufficient liquidity to meet needs of surrenders, claims and other benefit payments. Besides, the Company allocates in its SAA a certain proportion of highly liquid assets to meet liquidity requirements, which enables it to meet short-term cash flow requirements arising from business volatility. It will continue to monitor changes to its liquidity status and enhance risk management capabilities.
